INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Board of Trustees
The Detroit Institute for Children

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of Detroit Institute for Children, (a Michigan nonprofit organization) (the "Institute"), which comprise the statements of financial position as of August 31, 2023 and 2022, and the related statements of activities, functional expenses and cash flows for the years then ended, and the related notes to the financial statements.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Institute as of August 31, 2023 and 2022, and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the Institute and to meet our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audits. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Institute's ability to continue as a going concern within one year after the date that the financial statements are available to be issued.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements, including omissions, are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

Board of Trustees

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks.
 Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Institute's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the Institute's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control related matters that we identified during the audit.

Other Information Included in the Annual Report

Management is responsible for the other information included in the Institute's Annual Report. The other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report, but it does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance on it.

In connection with our audits of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and consider whether a material inconsistency exists between the other information and the financial statements, or the other information otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work performed, we conclude that an uncorrected material misstatement of the other information exists, we are required to describe it in our report.

NOTE 1 – NATURE OF ACTIVITIES AND SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Institute and Nature of Activities

The Detroit Institute for Children (the "Institute") provides comprehensive diagnostic services and treatment for children and young adults with special needs in Michigan.

The mission of the Institute is to provide a passionate, integrated approach to services for Michigan's children with special needs and their families. The Institute specializes in providing care for children with developmental, learning, emotional and physical disabilities including specialized early intervention programs for children from birth to 5 years.

The Institute provides therapeutic and mental health services including occupational and physical therapies, speech language pathology, social work, psychological and special education evaluations and consultations in schools exclusively in the State of Michigan, primarily the City of Detroit and the surrounding metropolitan areas. Additionally, workshops are provided at little or no cost to parents and professionals who provide care and support to children with special needs.

Basis of Presentation

The financial statements of the Institute have been prepared on the accrual basis in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) Accounting Standards Codification (ASC) 958, and the provisions of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountant (AICPA) "Audit and Accounting Guide for Not-for-Profit Organizations" (the Guide").

Under the provisions of the Guide, net assets and revenues, and gains and losses are classified based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Accordingly, the net assets of the Institute and changes therein are classified as follows:

Net assets without donor restrictions: Net assets that are not subject to donor-imposed restrictions and may be expended for any purpose in performing the primary objectives of the Institute. These net assets may be used at the discretion of the Institute management and the board of trustees.

Net assets with donor restrictions: Net assets subject to stipulations imposed by donors, and grantors. Some donor restrictions are temporary in nature; those restrictions will be met by actions of the Institute or by the passage of time. Other donor restrictions are perpetual in nature, where by the donor has stipulated the funds be maintained in perpetuity.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect certain reported amounts and disclosures. Actual results could differ from these estimates.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of demand deposits in banks and cash on hand. For the purpose of the statement of cash flows, the Institute considers all highly-liquid investments that are not included with marketable securities and purchased with original maturities of three months or less to be cash equivalents. The Institute had, at times throughout the year, bank balances that exceeded FDIC federally insured limits. Management has deemed this as a normal business risk.

Pledges Receivable

Pledges receivable consist of unconditional promises to give that are recognized as contributions when the promise is received. Pledges receivable that are expected to be collected in more than one year are recorded at fair value at the date of promise. That fair value is computed using the present value technique applied to anticipated cash flows. Amortization of the resulting discount is recognized as additional contribution revenue. The allowance for doubtful accounts is determined based on management's evaluation of the collectability of individual promises. Management has determined that no allowance is necessary.

Investments

The Institute records its investments in marketable equity securities in accordance with ASC topic Not-for-Profit entities Investments. Accordingly, investments in equity securities with readily determinable fair values and all investments in debt securities are stated at fair market value. Any related gains or losses are reported in the statement of activities.

Contract and Patient Accounts Receivable and Allowances

Contract accounts receivable are stated at invoiced amount less an allowance for doubtful accounts if an allowance is deemed necessary by management. The provision for the allowance is based on management's assessment of historical and expected net collections. At August 31, 2023 and 2022, there was an allowance of $10,526 and $-0-, respectively.

Patient accounts receivables are stated at net realizable value less a contractual allowance. The contractual allowance is based on management's assessment of historical and expected collections based on actual amounts reported under contractual arrangements with third-party payers. At August 31, 2023 and 2022, there was a contractual allowance of $9,153 and $3,979, respectively.

Property and Equipment and Depreciation and Amortization

Purchased property and equipment are stated at cost. Donated property and equipment is recorded at fair market value at the date of the gift. Major improvements and renewals are capitalized while ordinary maintenance and repairs are expensed. Management annually reviews these fixed assets to determine whether carrying values have been impaired. Depreciation and amortization are computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the related assets, which range from 3 to 7 years.

Beneficial Interest in Remainder Trusts Administered by Other Trustees

The Institute is a remainder beneficiary in various trusts administered by other trustees. A receivable is recorded at the present value of the amount held by the trustee that is due to the Institute, which is calculated using the lesser of the life expectancy of the income beneficiaries and the life of remainder trusts. The Institute uses a discount rate commensurate with the risks involved to discount the contribution receivable. Valuations are reviewed annually by management by updating life expectancy of the income beneficiaries, discount rates and the fair value of the underlying investments. As the receivable was expected to be collected, the balance was not discounted in either of the years ended August 31, 2023 and 2022. Subsequent changes to the fair value of the beneficial interest are reflected in the statement of activities as part of gifts and bequests.

Revenue and Revenue Recognition

Contract Revenue

The Institute's revenue under contracts from customers is comprised of therapeutic and mental health services provided to children and young adults. This contract revenue is reported on a fee per service basis net of an uncollectible allowance. The Institute recognizes revenue at the amount to which it expects to be entitled to when the control of the goods or services is transferred to the student. Control is generally transferred when the Institute has present right to payment and the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods or services are transferred to its students. Revenue is recognized over time as services are performed. The Institute's contracts with customers generally do not contain any significant variable consideration.

Contract balances consist of the following:

	 August 31,
	2023		2022
Accounts receivable from contracts, beginning of year	$ 95,402	$	84,750
Accounts receivable from contracts, end of year	$ 200,691	$	95,402

Patient Service Revenue

A portion of the Institute's revenue under contracts from customers is comprised of patient service revenue. Net patient service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts from patients, third party payers and others for service rendered. The Institute recognizes revenue at the amount to which it expects to be entitled when the control of the goods or services is transferred to the patient. Control is generally transferred when the Institute has present right to payment and the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods or services are transferred to its patients. Revenue is recognized over time as services are performed. Revenue under third-party payer agreements is subject to audit and retroactive adjustment. The Institute's contracts with customers generally do not contain any significant variable consideration.

Contributions

All contributions are considered to be for unrestricted use unless specifically restricted by the donor. When a stipulated time restriction ends or purpose restriction is accomplished, net assets with donor restrictions are reclassified to net assets without donor restrictions and reported in the statement of activities as net assets released from restrictions. However, donor restricted contributions whose restrictions are met in the same reporting period are reported by the Institute as unrestricted support in the financial statements. Contributions of cash and other assets are reported as revenue when received and measured at fair value.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
August 31, 2023 and 2022

Contributed Non-Financial Assets, Services and Facilities

During the years ended August 31, 2023 and 2022, the value of contributed non-financial assets meeting the requirement for recognition in the financial statements was $4,500 and $124, respectively. Contributed assets include materials provide toward the fulfillment of programs and general managerial administration. There were no contributed services or facilities for the years ended August 31, 2023 and 2022. Donated materials are recorded at the fair market value upon receipt.

Income Taxes

The Institute is a not-for-profit organization exempt from income tax under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and is exempt from similar state and local taxes.

ASC guidance regarding accounting for uncertainty in income taxes clarifies the accounting for income taxes by prescribing the minimum recognition threshold an income tax position is required to meet before being recognized in the financial statements and applies to all income tax positions. Each income tax position is assessed using a two-step process. A determination is first made as to whether it is more likely than not that the income tax position will be sustained, based upon technical merits, upon examination by the taxing authorities. If the income tax position is expected to meet the more likely than not criteria, the benefit recorded in the financial statements equals the largest amount that is greater than 50% likely to be realized upon its ultimate settlement. At August 31, 2023 and 2022, there were no uncertain tax positions that require accrual.

Functional Expenses

Direct identifiable expenses are charged to programs and supporting services accordingly. Expenses related to more than one function are charged to program services and support services based on management's estimates of periodic time and expense allocation. Management and general expenses include those expenses that are not directly identifiable with any other specific function but provide for the overall support and direction of the organization. Although the allocation method used is considered appropriate, other methods could be used that would produce different results.

Recently Adopted Accounting Pronouncements

In February 2016, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued accounting standards update ("ASU") 2016-02 "Leases (Topic 842)". Under this guidance, an entity is required to recognize right-of-use ("ROU") assets and lease liabilities on its statement of financial position and disclose key information about leasing arrangements.

The Institute adopted the new standard effective September 1, 2022, using the modified retrospective approach. This approach allows the Institute to initially apply the new accounting standards at the adoption date and recognize a cumulative adjustment to the opening balance of net assets in the period of adoption. The prior year comparative information has not been restated and continues to be reported under the accounting standards for that period. The adoption of the new standard had no impact on the opening balance of net assets on the adoption date. On the date of adoption, the Institute recorded both operating lease right-of-use assets and liabilities totaling $79,464.

The new standard provides a number of optional practical expedients at transition. The Institute elected certain practical expedients that must be elected as a package, which permit the Institute to not reassess, under the new standard, prior conclusions about (1) lease identification, (2) lease classification, and (3) initial direct costs. Additionally, the Institute elected a short-term lease exception policy, which allows entities to not apply the new standard to short-term leases (i.e. leases with terms of 12 months or less) and a hindsight policy, which allows entities to include current considerations for existing leases when determining initial lease terms. The Institute has also elected to account for lease and non-lease components as a single component for all leases, to utilize a risk-free rate for all leases when calculating the lease liability if the implicit rate in the lease is not readily determinable, and elected to not record any right-of-use assets under the Institute's capitalization threshold.

In September 2020, the FASB issued ASU 2020-07, "Presentation and Disclosures by Not-for-Profit Entities for Contributed Nonfinancial Assets". The standard requires nonprofits to expand their financial statement presentation and disclosure of contributed nonfinancial assets, including in-kind contributions. The standard includes disclosure of information on an entity's policies on contributed nonfinancial assets about monetization and utilization during the reporting period, information on donor-imposed restrictions, and valuation techniques. The new standard, as amended, is to be applied retrospectively to annual reporting periods beginning after June 15, 2021. The Institute adopted the ASU 2020-07 effective September 1, 2022.

Leases

The Institute determines if an arrangement is a lease at inception by determining whether the agreement conveys the right to control the use of the identified asset for a period of time, whether the Institute has the right to obtain substantially all of the economic benefits from use of the identified asset, and the right to direct the use of the asset. Lease liabilities are recognized at the commencement date based upon the present value of the remaining future minimum lease payments over the lease term using the rate implicit in the lease or the risk-free rate. The risk-free rate is defined as the daily treasury par yield curve rate for a period of time that approximates the lease term. The Institute's lease terms include options to renew or terminate the lease when it is reasonably certain that they will exercise the option.

The lease right-of-use assets are initially measured at the carrying amount of the lease liability and adjusted for any prepaid or accrued lease payments, remaining balance of lease incentives received, unamortized initial direct costs, or impairment charges relating to the right-of-use-asset.

The Institute's lease agreements do not contain any material residual value guarantees or material restrictive covenants.

Reclassification

Certain reclassifications have been made to the financial statements for the prior year to conform to current year presentation.

Subsequent Events

The Institute has performed a review of events subsequent to the balance sheet date through March 13, 2024, the date the financials were available to be issued.

NOTE 4 – FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The framework provides a fair value hierarchy that prioritizes the inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value. The hierarchy gives the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1) and the lowest priority to unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). The three levels of the fair value hierarchy under FASB ASC 820 are described as follows:

Level 1 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unadjusted quoted prices for identical assets or liabilities in active markets that the Institute has the ability to access.

Level 2 Inputs to the valuation methodology include

- Quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets.
- Quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in inactive markets.
- Inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability.
- Inputs that are derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means.

If the asset or liability has a specific (contractual) term, the Level 2 input must be observable for substantially the full term of the asset or liability.

Level 3 Inputs to the valuation methodology are unobservable and significant to the fair value measurement.

The asset or liability's fair value measurement level within the fair value hierarchy is based on the lowest level of any input that is significant to the fair value measurement. Valuation techniques used need to maximize the use of observable inputs and minimize the use of unobservable inputs.

Following is a description of the valuation methodologies used for assets measured at fair value.

Mutual funds: Valued at the daily closing price as reported by the fund. Mutual funds held are open-end mutual funds that are registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These funds are required to publish their daily net asset value (NAV) and to transact at that price. The mutual funds held are deemed to be actively traded.

Beneficial interests in remainder trusts: Valued at the NAV, based on the fair value of the underlying investments held by the remainder trusts less remainder trusts' liabilities. The fair value of the underlying investments is provided by the other trustees annually. Due to the minimal observable inputs, the beneficial interests are classified as Level 3.

Beneficial interests in endowment fund: Valued at the NAV, based on the fair value of the underlying endowment fund investments held by the community foundation. The fair value of the underlying investments is provided by the community foundation annually. Due to the minimal observable inputs, the beneficial interests are classified as Level 3.

The preceding methods described may produce a fair value calculation that may not be indicative of net realizable value or reflective of future fair values. Furthermore, although the Institute believes its valuation methods are appropriate and consistent with other market participants, the use of different methodologies or assumptions to determine fair value of certain financial instruments could result in a different fair value measurement at the reporting date.

The following tables set forth by level, within the fair value hierarchy, the Institute's assets at fair value.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Institute has interpreted the Uniform Prudent Management of Institutional Funds Act (UPMIFA) as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as of the gift date of the donor-restricted endowment funds absent explicit donor stipulations to the contrary. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles and this interpretation, the Institute classifies as net assets with donor restrictions (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulated to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instrument at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified is permanently restricted net asset is classified as unrestricted unless otherwise specified by the donor.

The Institute considers the following factors in making a determination to appropriate or accumulate donor-restricted endowment funds:

- (1) The duration and preservation of the fund
- (2) The purposes of the Institute and the donor-restricted endowment fund
- (3) General economic conditions
- (4) The possible effect of inflation and deflation
- (5) The expected total return from income and the appreciation of investments
- (6) Other resources of the Organization
- (7) The investment policies

The Institute's endowment fund is held by the Community Foundation (the "Foundation"). The Fund is administered and invested in accordance with investment and other policies applicable to endowment funds adopted by the Foundation. Earnings are available for distribution to the Institute at the discretion of the Foundation and are reflected in the financial statements when received from the Foundation. As of August 31, 2023 and 2022, the fair value of the endowment fund totaled $9,530 and $9,425, respectively.
